Maritime Leaders Conclave में पीएम मोदी, 29 अक्टूबर 2025

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi addressed the Global Fintech Fest 2025 in Mumbai, Maharashtra today. Extending a warm welcome to all attendees in Mumbai, Shri Modi described Mumbai as the City of Energy, the City of Enterprise, and the City of Endless Possibilities. He specially welcomed his friend, Prime Minister H.E. Mr. Keir Starmer, and expressed gratitude for his presence at the Global Fintech Festival, acknowledging the time he took to attend the event.

Recalling that five years ago, when the Global Fintech Festival was launched, the world was battling a global pandemic, the Prime Minister highlighted that today, the festival has evolved into a global platform for financial innovation and cooperation. He noted that this year, the United Kingdom is participating as a partner country, and emphasized that the partnership between two major democracies will further strengthen the global financial landscape. Shri Modi remarked on the vibrant atmosphere, energy, and dynamism at the venue, calling it remarkable. He stated that this reflects global trust in India's economy and growth. The Prime Minister congratulated Shri Kris Gopalakrishnan, all organizers, and participants for the successful conduct of the event.

156th Birth Anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi

On Thursday, 2 October 2025, the Embassy of India in Zagreb organized a floral tribute at the Mahatma Gandhi bust, Park Bundek, Zagreb, to honor the legacy of Mahatma Gandhi. The event was graced by distinguished guests from Croatia, members of the Diplomatic Corps, university professors, and Friends of India. In his address, Ambassador Arun Goel reflected on the transformative journeys of both Croatia and India, emphasizing the threads of progress and resilience that connect the two nations. Floral tributes were respectfully offered by the Ambassador, members of the Diplomatic Corps, Embassy officials, and other guests.

Prof. Ivan Andrijanić, Chair of Indology at the University of Zagreb, also shared insights on Gandhian philosophy and its global significance. Additional observations on the life and legacy of the Mahatma were given by Mahamandaleshwar Swami Vivek Puri, President of the Hindu Religious Society of Croatia and Ivan Miškulin, Faculty of Medicine, University of Osijek. The event celebrated Gandhi's vision of peace, non-violence, and grassroots progress, reminding all of the timeless values that continue to inspire both nations.

Integration Experiences of Foreign Workers in Croatia: India in Focus

On Wednesday, 22nd October, a lecture and open discussion on the integration of Indian foreign workers in Croatia was held at HKD Napredak, organised by the Croatian Indian Society. The event started with opening remarks by the Society's president, Joginder Singh Nijjar. At the discussion, Pallavi Kararha, Head of Chancery, Embassy of India, Zagreb, spoke about the cultural similarities, differences, and how to bridge the gap, along with the challenges faced by many Indian workers in Croatia. Dr. Margareta Gregurović from the Institute for Migration Research presented data on the number of Indian workers, the sectors in which they are employed, and the administrative problems and challenges they encounter. Slide images revealed that over 20,000 Indian citizens have been working in Croatia in 2024, alongside 35,000 Nepali nationals. However, this only includes those whose work permits have been issued; a significant number of workers are still in the administrative process and are not yet included in official statistics.

India Rising: The New Global Investment Powerhouse

Watch Jonathan D. Gray, President & COO Blackstone, share his insights on India's rapid economic rise. He highlights the massive investments in infrastructure—physical, legal, and capital markets—that are driving growth, along with a flourishing middle class.

Key factors:

Strong Economic Growth:

India is one of the fastest-growing major economies, driven by manufacturing, digital services, and a booming middle class.

Digital Transformation:

Rapid adoption of technologies like AI, fintech, and 5G, along with initiatives like Digital India, has made India a global tech hub.

Young Workforce:

With over 65% of its population under 35, India has a massive, skilled labor force fueling innovation and productivity.

Global Manufacturing & Supply Chain Role:

Programs like Make in India and diversification away from China have turned India into a key manufacturing and export hub.

Geopolitical Influence:

India's growing diplomatic and defense partnerships (e.g., with the U.S., Japan, and Europe) strengthen its global strategic position.

Indian Economy on the Transformational Paths

Google, Adani and Airtel join forces to build India's largest AI data centre in Vizag

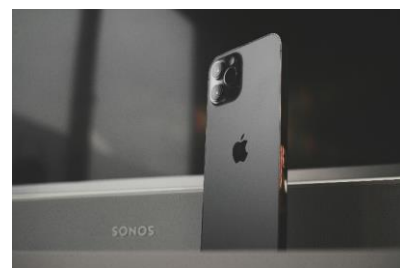

Andhra Pradesh aims to host 6 GW of data-centre capacity by 2029, reinforcing its position as a key AI and digital infrastructure hub. Adani Enterprises Ltd., Alphabet Inc.'s Google and Bharti Airtel Ltd. have joined hands to establish India's largest artificial intelligence data centre in Visakhapatnam, marking a milestone in the country's emerging AI infrastructure. The initiative is part of Google's $15-billion push into India's AI ecosystem, representing its biggest single investment in the country to date. The investment comes amid a wave of AI and cloud infrastructure expansion in India. Amazon Web Services (AWS) has pledged $12.7 billion over five years to build new cloud infrastructure and support more than 100,000 full-time jobs annually. OpenAI, the creator of ChatGPT, is exploring partnerships to develop a 1 GW data centre in India after registering as a local entity. Meanwhile, Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) has announced plans for a $6.5-billion AI data centre and a dedicated AI subsidiary, underscoring a wider shift among Indian IT giants towards high-capacity AI computing.

RBI says India's growth outlook remains resilient despite global economic headwinds

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has said that the ongoing flux in the global economy poses significant challenges to the global macroeconomic outlook, adding that India is not entirely insulated from these developments. However, it emphasised that the domestic economy remains resilient, supported by low inflation, solid corporate earnings, and a robust banking system. In its latest monthly bulletin, the central bank noted that these factors are helping sustain the economy's momentum despite global volatility. Earlier this month, the RBI raised its forecast for India's GDP growth to 6.8 per cent for the current financial year. It said that domestic growth drivers remain strong even amid external uncertainties. On the external front, the RBI addressed the impact of trade tensions with the United States. It acknowledged that India faces punitive tariffs on exports to the U.S., following President Donald Trump's insistence that these would remain unless India reduces its imports of Russian oil. Despite these tariffs, the central bank maintained that the overall impact on India's growth remains limited. It said that merchandise trade continues to show resilience, although exports to the U.S. saw a notable decline in September as the higher tariffs took effect.

Apple records highest-ever quarterly iPhone shipments in India

Apple Inc. achieved its highest-ever quarterly smartphone shipments in India, delivering 4.9 million iPhones during the July–September quarter of 2025, according to data from research firm Omdia. The milestone represents a 47% increase compared with the same period last year, marking Apple's strongest performance in the Indian market to date. The surge was attributed to robust festive season demand and the launch of the iPhone 17 series on 9 September. India now contributes 9% of Apple's global iPhone shipments, the largest share in the company's history, underscoring the country's rising importance in its global growth strategy.
